

KSBY NEWS INTERNSHIP

The KSBY news internship program provides journalism students with a close-up view of the daily operation of a television newsroom.

Interns have opportunities to shadow reporters, photographers and producers. They also spend time writing first drafts of TV and web scripts, shooting and logging video, researching stories and editing their own packages. All activities are done under the direct supervision of a KSBY newsroom employee. The internships are unpaid and must be taken for college credit. For more information, contact Assistant News Director Matt Van Slyke at mvanslyke@ksby.com or call 805-305-5598.
